Beschreibung

The blog2phpCMS plugin software allows you to use weblog systems content (currently only wordpress 2.x) in your phpCMS content files.

That is pretty useful because phpCMS is a rich-featured but lightweight CMS System, whereas a typical weblog system like wordpress is more diary-like and pretty easy to use for editors. Combining these two systems gives you a rich set of possibilities to keep a website with dynamic content up-to-date. And all of this without the need of too much technical know-how on the editor's side.
