Description

PCI (Pilot Cell Invoices) is a solution for cell operators and all related businesses. It allows automatically generate and print out the cell invoices on the basis of logs that are generated on the cell operator's equipment. The work is conducted absolutely automatically.

The form of the invoice is set up individually and includes the following: title page, company's logo, client's name, and address, full list of calls and price, total cost of the calls.

The solution identifies the client by the telephone number from the list of phones.

The solution supports the work with the client's database for up to 3000 clients.

If you are cell operator or you are providing billing services to a group of clients, then this is your solution.
